Engineering, Construction & Infrastructure (ECI)

Our quest for talents for the industry is unceasing and global.

This quest has yielded an array of experts with competencies required from concept to commissioning of large infrastructure projects; be it roads, railways or power plants. We have engineering talents to create spectacular, robust, tall and functional buildings.

We have innate understanding of the constraints of the industry and fulfill the burgeoning demands for laborers, masons, painters, engineers, architects and designers.

Healthcare

There is a substantial deficit of health workers world over. The global and local threats to health have shown a marked increase. Several Infectious diseases have staged a dramatic comeback, and chronic diseases are on the rise. We cannot improve people's health with-out the staff to deliver health care.

Hospitals hire all levels and types of professionals for both clinical and non-clinical jobs. Clinical hospital jobs are those which provide direct patient care, such as nurses, doctors, or allied personnel. Non-clinical hospital jobs are administrative or management types of roles, which could include everything from janitors to executives, and everyone in between.

ARMS maintains close relationships with Medical Institutions and Universities worldwide to recruit the smartest and the best healthcare professionals in the world. We have a network of physicians and health experts who can work on full-time or on project basis.
