PLANNING

We strongly believe that a detailed restaurant and specifically kitchen floor plan aids in eliminating any post construction issues. That's why we continuously invest in our IT, Planning and Project Management Department.

A well devised restaurant floor plan with the most accurate details provides the construction contractor with all the required information needed for the successful completion of a well built and well equipped restaurant that you wish to own.

Kitchen is the most important unit of a restaurant establishment and hence a kitchen floor plan gains importance. When developing a kitchen floor plan consideration needs to be given to the various aspects like equipment, functionality and usage of the kitchen. Also a kitchen floor plan needs to be developed by making arrangements for the equipment that will go in your restaurant kitchen.
