PROFILE

WHAT IS GLASS?

Glass is a solid-like and transparent material that is used in numerous applications in our daily lives. Glass is made from natural and abundant raw materials (sand, soda ash and limestone) that are melted at very high temperature to form a new material : glass. At high temperature glass is structurally similar to liquids, however at ambient temperature it behaves like solids. As a result, glass can be poured, blown, press and moulded into plenty of shapes.

BUILDINGS

Glass in buildings Delivering so much more than you think or even expect Facades and windows are the most obvious and visible way of applying glass in buildings and houses. Today's glass products for commercial and residential buildings make us of highly developed technologies to offer you more than the simple window panes of the past. Not evident to you? Normal, all these technologies are invisible to the eye because we want you to continue enjoying an unaltered view when you see through our glass.

FLOORS

Glass can be used as a flooring material both in residential and commercial buildings. Glass floors but also staircases allow more light to flow inside buildings with unique indoor design effects. It is more and more used in tourist attractions to display archaeological sites or to enjoy vertiginous down views like in the Eiffel Tower, or in mountain tops like in the Italian Alps. However, many do not know that glass can also be used to build floors in indoor sports facilities. It is usually made of a toughened glass which is also laminated to ensure structural strength.

WINDOWS

Light, comfort, well-being, style, safety are just a few of the benefits that today's high-performing windows can deliver. The ability to control heat, light, and sound transmission to a high degree enables to design buildings that have a greatly reduced energy consumption but that are as well comfortable and safe for building occupants. As Europeans typically spend 90% of their time inside buildings, glazed areas in buildings distinctively contribute to our health and sensations of well-being by letting our body clock calibrates with daylight.

FACADES

Glass facades are mainly used for tertiary buildings (offices, shops, hospitals). They allow natural light into the building and connect occupants with the external world, while providing a very sophisticated look. The exposure to natural daylight and the opportunity of having an open view of the surrounding, have been demonstrated to be driving factors of productivity improvements in office buildings and faster recovery in hospital. These same unique properties of glazing are shown to significantly drive sales upwards in daylit shops.

SKYLIGHTS

Skylights improve access to natural light indoor, particularly in rooms in the middle of buildings, far from any vertical window. Skylights usually include products such as roof windows, unit skylights, tubular daylighting devices (TDDs), sloped glazing, and custom skylights. For all these applications, special glass treatments exist to reduce glare and overheating while ensuring sufficient strength to resist exceptional weather elements such as hail, snow load, etc..

Not only do skylights allow more light and ventilation indoor, they let you feel that only the sky is the limit to see and reach the stars!

INTERIOR

When it comes to using of materials in interior designing, glass plays a major role as it adds the required amount of style and sophistication, and is a material that is very much in trend and widely used in this industry.

But since interior designing is not just about creating a space that looks splendid, an interior designer do need to focus on various other factors and even need to consider whether the design actually demands the usage of glass. Glasses in interiors are used on doors, windows, roofs, walls and are even used as a partition. Hence depending on the design concept, the personal style of home dwellers and the purpose behind the usage of glass, designers take a decision on which glass to opt for.

BALUSTRADE & RAILING

Create an open, spacious look with sleek and clean lined Contemporary Glass Railing systems from INFOCUS Glass. Some designs call for straight glass stair railing used up stairways, or as divider partitions between two rooms. Other designs require curved or bent glass, which is achieved by carefully measuring the existing stairs and creating millwork or fabricating metal to structurally secure the addition of an elegant glass railing. Whenever possible, it is best to have the millwork designed, built and installed to achieve the integrity required for our glass railing. In some cases on retrofit installations, the old rail is removed and replaced with glass railing using specialized techniques to provide the structural requirements.

TABLE & SHELVES

The transparency of glass shelves allows them to seamlessly blend into their environment, creating a light and airy feel in any room. Glass shelving is a beautiful way to reinforce the brightness in crisp, light spaces and keep dark rooms from being too heavy. Glass shelves blend with any décor and make an excellent accent in a kitchen, bedroom, bathroom, bar or office. Glass shelves bring a touch of elegance to any room without crowding it, even lending an illusion of increased size and depth to a space. They are less intrusive than wood or metal shelves, allowing light to pass through and offering opportunities for attractive lighting from above or below to create a truly magical look.

BENEFITS

Provide extra storage space while making a room appear larger since you can see all the way to the wall.

Enhance the view of items placed on the shelf due to its reflective nature.

Create a visual appeal that seems to float on the wall.

Glass shelves are just as strong and durable as other shelving materials.

Add visual contrast and complement other elements.

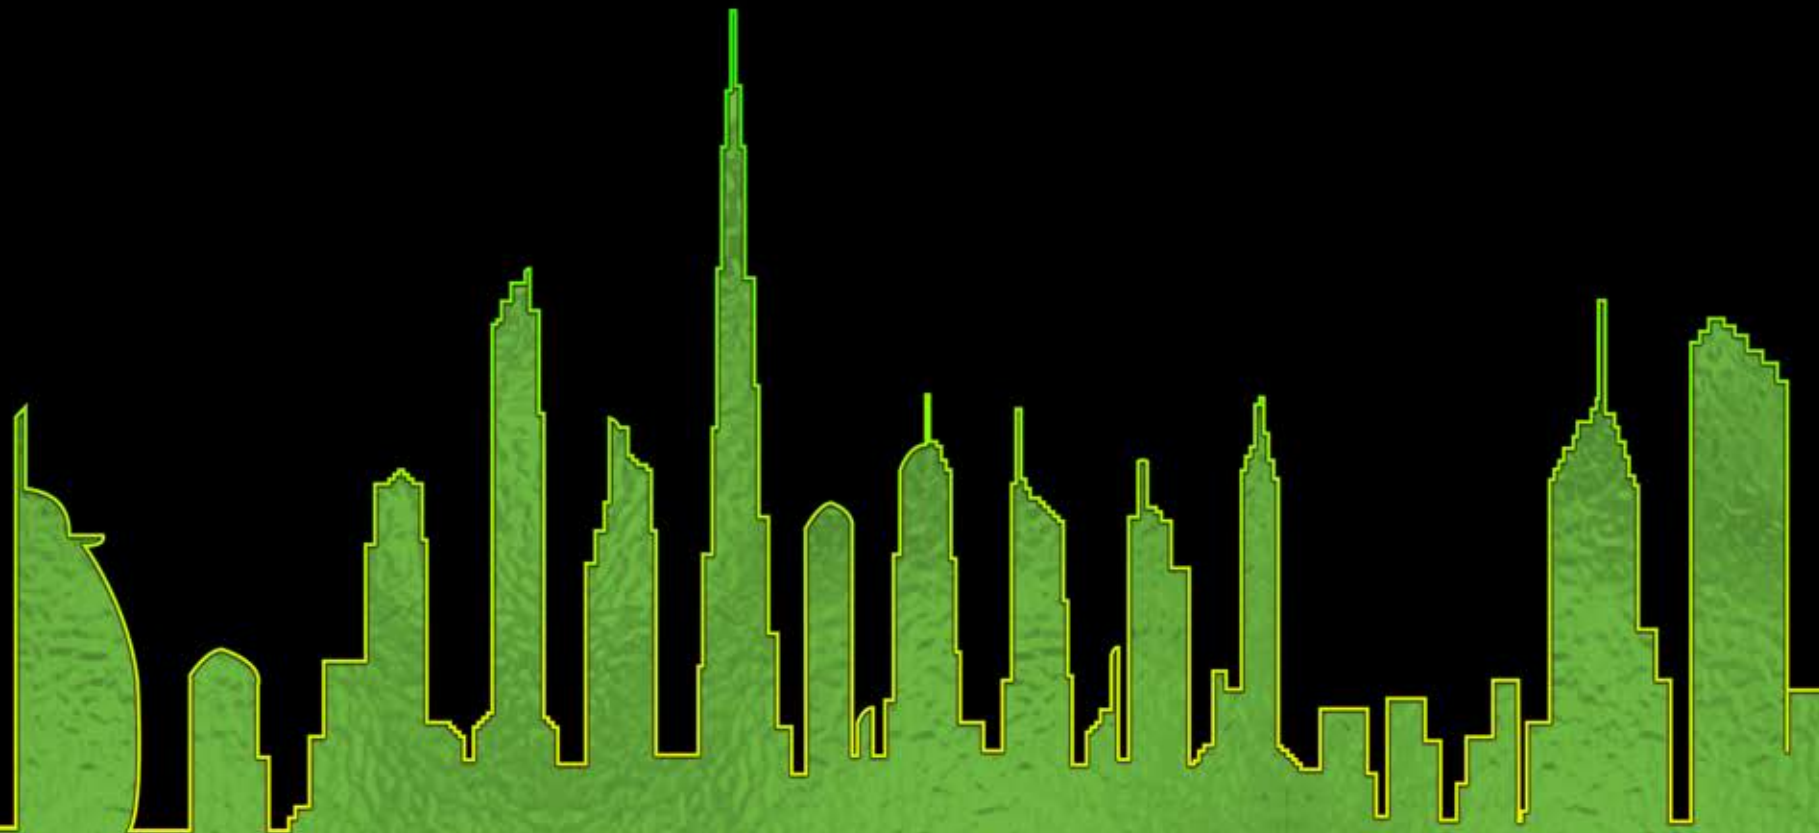

Create a lighting effect because they allow light to shine through from above and below.

GLASS

Printing on glass is made possible by INFOCUS UV flatbed printing technology. Now images are not contained to pieces of paper. Glass tables, Glass space dividers, glass displays all come to life when you brand or print a full color image to it.

INFOCUS has the ability to image 9 colors including white directly to the glass. You can achieve double sided color images or control the opacity to create a mood as you peer thru the glass itself. This amazing imaging technology can be used to brand glass in a display counter or entrance way.

At trade shows, imprint a message or application onto the glass shelves in a showcase or even create counter top displays that will get potential customers attention.

Present your brand or message to your customers in class by printing it on glass.

Printing White Ink allows for Image Versatility... With the ability to print Full 4/C color as well as White ink the possibilities are endless. Try printing the colors in layer combinations like: using 4/C + white + 4/C on clear material can be perfect for a 2 sided displays. Printing 4/C + 4/C + White can produce color saturated stunning transparencies or rear illuminated displays. Try 4/C + Spot White + 4/C can allow you to have different messages on both sides of the glass but allow a translucent "see Thru" effect on maybe flowing fabrics. Leave areas clear when printing on Plexiglass and Acrylic or even Glass.

Think of the versatility and flexibility that a designer has, when they have input on color control. Teamed with our technicians we can implement your vision and the results are truly amazing.

- Branded Directional signage

DIRECT - TO - MATERIAL

Very cool and unusual, printing on metal produces a sleek, contemporary & vibrant look. This printing process can really differentiate your work from photographic paper and canvas prints. Water and weatherproof, it makes them ideal for pool houses, man caves, garages, kitchens and bathrooms. INFOCUS has the ability to print the image with a white base giving your images a true to life look. Printing on metal without the white base will allow the metal to show thru in the white areas thus taking on the character of the metal substrate.

Metal Sheets for Plaques and Displays

Along with the metal display prints listed above INFOCUS can can imprint different metal substrates from brass to aluminum. We can paint or finish aluminum, which is available in different thicknesses and print directly to the final plaques. Excellent in exterior settings like gardens, zoos, nature trails and aquariums. These plaques can tell a story about an animal or feature and have a full color picture of the animal printed directly next to the description.

Need to dedicate a garden create, show a hiking trail, create a donor plaque, the applications are endless.

Metal printing is great to set your booth off at trade shows. Imprint a logo, graphic or product on shaped, distressed, risers or metal displays.

INTERACTIVE MULTI TOUCH

Multi-touch Technology

Touch future. Together! What has been successfully established on smart phones and tables. INFOCUS brings to tables and walls in large scale: unlimited multi touch technology on seamless displays in any size and shape, combined with innovative multiuser software available.

Control by hand comes much more naturally than any input device it needs no introduction and is instantly understood. Mouse and keyboard are a thing of the past.

Kids Multi touch Table

These interactive children's touch tables are perfect for kids rooms, shopping centres, car showrooms, nurseries, schools, pre-school, children's play areas, etc.

Everything about the design of this kids touch table has been considered with child safety in mind. Normally touch tables and touchscreen stands are made from hard metal or steel, with sharp edges and access to parts which are really not suitable for an environment with young children.

The touchscreen tables are specially designed for children's use and come pre-loaded with kids educational games. We normally supply and install parental admin software to 'lock down' the touch screens and prevent children from browsing websites or downloading apps without permission.

KIOSKS

INFOCUS kiosks are manufactured with a toughened glass fascia, making it suitable as a Digital Signage or Information Terminal solution in public environments. And the integrated timer allows you to assign daily or weekly schedules automatically powering down the kiosk when not in use.

This portrait display offers users, customers and audiences an opportunity to view and engage with chosen information or content, assisting with communicating your brand message, increasing footfall, increasing sales in a self service kiosk application and improving the overall sales experience. A well placed quality kiosk can make the difference, offering your audience a memorable and effective journey.

Custom branding allows you to include your company's logo and colour theme as part of the display, enforcing your brand message and helping your store stand out from the crowd.
