MD'S MESSAGE:

In the digitally thriving world of today, we are proud to serve our clients through our strong synergy with the leading manufacturers of genuine spare parts, filters, diesel engines, gensets & lubricants. Since our inception, we have had a stunning record of dedicated services to our growing clients that are a part of the UEFZC family. We have grown and matured with time and hence, have incorporated layers of technology in our process, thus making it efficient and up to date with the times.

Over the years, we have witnessed a dynamic shift from aftermarket parts to genuine ones – the clients believe in investing better for superior service and quality more than ever today as economies emerge and the markets become competitive. The benefits of genuine parts over the aftermarkets one are too many to overlook – better performance, low downtime, one-time investment with best results, and improved quality of the overall performance. This has led to a spur in the genuine parts market. We have curated genuine products from world leaders in manufacturing to set the bars high and that has resulted in longevity, finish and quality of services. Our global presence allows us to share our services in any part of the world and with that, we are going places!

With decades of being in the business ensuring top-level services and premium quality, we have maintained competitive costs that are unique to us. And that is why we are a platform with complete services and solutions. With our conversance with the global parts market and strong relationship with major manufacturers, we aspire to become global leaders in our field. Our strength lies in the quality and variety of our product range, our experiential knowledge, our resource-efficient policy and programs, and a dedicated team of professionals joining hands together. Our priorities rest in our client's contentment and with that, we believe we are on our way to becoming the leading Heavy Duty Engine Parts and Genset Company.

ENGINE OVERHAULING TEAM

Well branded engines are known for their dependability as they travel & function in different parts of the world in different conditions. A combination of factors – geography, load capacity & age of its work life – make up for the “right time” for overhauling the engine. A turnkey operation, we are a complete overhauling solutions provider for your engines. No geography is remote to us – thanks to our liaisons with manufacturing service providers globally. The overhauling teams can reach you anywhere, in any remote part of the world, and help you get through if the equipment is stuck, malfunctioning, or not working. This saves you time and hence, money.

POWERHOUSE DESIGNING, INSTALLING, AND COMMISSIONING SERVICES:

The design, installation, and commissioning process is all about ensuring that all elements of the powerhouse set-up are in sync with the entire system. However, there might be times when the project setup is to be initiated at a remote location with no power arrangements or in small countries with insufficient power generation sources.

In such cases, diesel engine or gas engine backup gensets come to the rescue to fulfil the power needs. To help you get through, we hold your hand throughout the process. We have tie-ups with designing, installation & commissioning service providers consisting of seasoned professionals throughout the globe to facilitate the process and meet all the power-related needs.

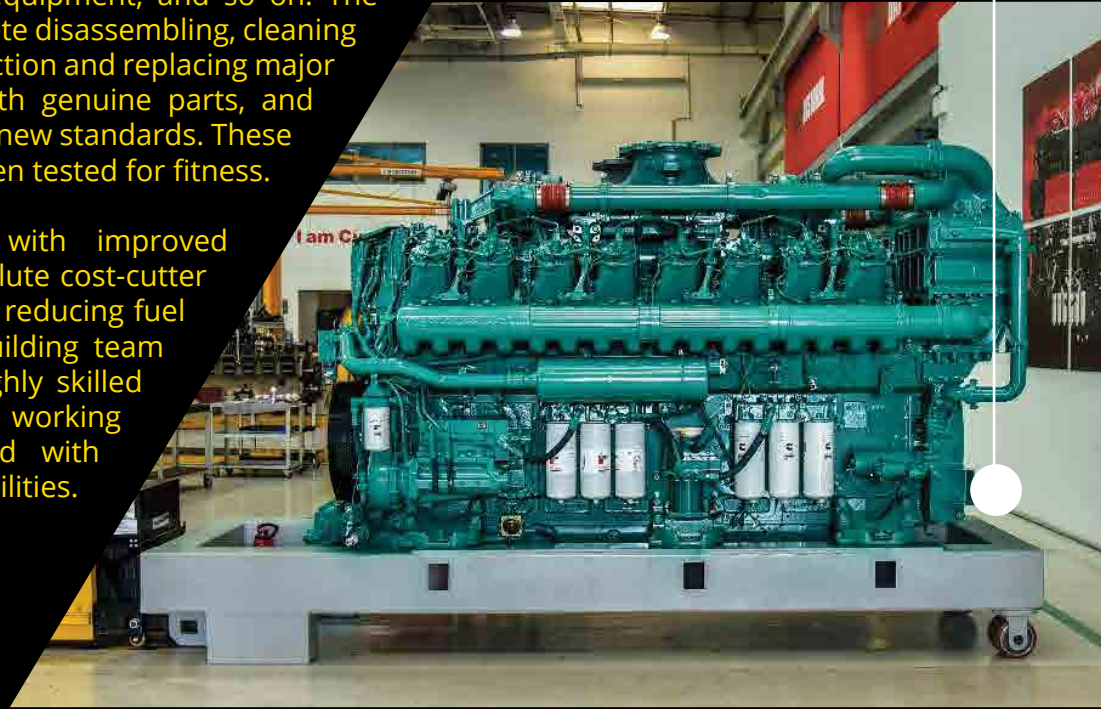

It does not end here, we continue to hold your hand for the maintenance of the project.

MASTER REBUILD CENTRE:

Our association with Cummins Master Rebuild Centre allows us to give complete Cummins engine rebuild solutions. Our customers can have their engines rebuilt through a step-by-step process of machining, systematic testing, dry-filter paint booth, cleaning equipment, and so on. The process involves complete disassembling, cleaning to remove debris, inspection and replacing major engine components with genuine parts, and building them to match new standards. These assembled parts are then tested for fitness.

The rebuilt engines with improved efficiencies are an absolute cost-cutter for the client while also reducing fuel consumption. The rebuilding team involves a group of highly skilled people operating in working environments equipped with state-of-the-art facilities.
