However, an essential overlooked hygiene issue is AC Duct Cleaning which many people are unaware of and the harmful effect it can have on health. If you're residing in Dubai where mostly weather is hot & humid all year long, it's likely your windows are closed most of the time, and air conditioners are operating 24x7, which brings up the need for AC maintenance.

The Air conditioner system consists of two sections, the AC unit, and Duct. It is important that both parts are regularly maintained especially Duct cleaning as well as sanitation of it to prevent contamination because it is the core of the ventilation system.
