ExoSupport Company Profile

Exosupport is a company that specializes in the professional execution of interior spaces, with a proficient team of experts skilled in bespoke bathroom fit-out, kitchens, large format tile installation, painting, and more. One of Exosupport's distinguishing features is that we are both architects and contractors. From project conception to building occupancy, we provide a single point of contact. In a typical architect/contractor relationship, both parties have only a limited amount of control over the overall process. During the transfer of responsibility, information can be lost. Furthermore, a client may become embroiled in a dispute in which the architect blames the contractor or vice versa. Interior execution and fit-outs with architectural and interior design expertise enable us to pursue a smooth process of execution with high standards of excellence
